The ample resour play a potent part.

The ample resources offered in the money market supplied the means for sperating on easy terms, and the cessatian of the foreign demand for our gold was the immediate development of most influence on money. The favoring influences from abroad have included the place rumors, which have been current in very capital of the old world, and which have been reflected in a movement of government securities more impressive than outbreak of war between Russia and Japan Wall street has given a share of its attention to affairs at Washington and has been inclined to interpret events there heir possible bearing on the pros-ive railroad rate legislation. Thus friction between the President and the Senate has been considered as a possible obstacle to the passage of railroad not legislation, and has had some effect on the demand for stocks in that view. Shifting views of the outlook of this Cosilon and the investigation by the department of commerce of the Standard Oll company, which has been ordered, were minor influences during the week. The serious proportions reached by the serious proportions reached has described and attaint ports' terminals has disturbed sentiment and its feets are expected to be lowered further in the showing of railroad earnings. The capatic over the control of the Equitable life Assurance society has been followed with wide interest throughout the financial word. The patching up of the difficulty is regarded with relief.

New York Stock Market Letters.

James A. Pollock & Co., stock and grate brokers & West Second South street make only the following letters on the stock mar-ket. public the following letters on the stock market.
Logan & Bryan, New York, say: "The market closed strong, interest being centered almost entirely in Union Pacific, which advanced 55 a shore. This coupled with the point advance in Great Northern preferred, lends color to the rumor of varly settlement of the Northern Securities case. The letter stock ruled more guiet, but very firm. Gossip is perdistent that the dividend on Union Pacific will be advanced next year to a 6 per cent basis. In view of the fact that the convertible bondholders have only until May 1, 1906, to exchange their bonds for romanon stock the opinion is guirent that nothing will be done on dividend increase until that time. Today's market has been mittee and more uniform than recent sessions. The bank statement, coming better than expected, added strength and caused some short covering. The general undertone configures to reflect vast underlying strength. The cetton of the market still seems to warrant the belief that stocks are a purchase on recent close. The general indertone confiders to reflect vast underlying strength. The action of the market still secure to warrant the belief that stocks are a purchase on recessions."

Dick Bros. New York say: "The market has a great deal of irregularity today but, again, remarkable strength was displayed by the merger stocks, particularly in Union Pactific and Northern Securities. The former's i-point rise was a sensational one and on the curb Northern Securities advanced to about 151, when these stocks were maiding their spurts. However, other stocks, even Southern Pacific, showed reactionary tendent, cles, and closed rather singlish. The tank statement was not as unfavorable as expected, although it was not a good one. Another sensational advance was scored by Federal Smelting common. National Lead and American Smelting shares were also very strong."

The market seems to be in a position where a good reactionary movement might set in at any time from the shifting of bank leans, or profit-taking, by some of the larger operators on various sools. If the large short interests have covered up pretty well the last week and the outeranding interest on the short side is comparatively smaller than for some time. Moreover, the falling bank reserved to be beak of the local money market. We do not believe the market will be allowed to break, however, to any extent, as the most influential interests have not succeeded in distributing much stock and good support undoubtedly will be forthcoming in surficient volume from these sources to the undertone in good shape and give continued good trading market."

Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Weakness in the wheat market developed immediately after the opening. Initial quotations, however, showed some loss, May being %c lower to $4c higher at $1.094 to $1.0194. The May delivery assumed supremacy in the pit, trading in that option early in the day being extremely heavy. At the start sellers filled the pit, but offerings met with little demand. Within a few miautes May had sold off to $1.18%, On the decline shorts bought liberally and the price was forced up again to $1.194, Meantime July eased off to $1.0194, but later railled Prices Are Raised More Plentiful Supply Expected First May had sold off to $1.18%. On the decline shorts bought liberally and the price was forced up again to $1.19%, Meantime July eased off to $1.01%, but fater railied a triffe in sympathy with the up-turn in May. The market was influenced considerably by weakness of forcing grain markets. Lower prices abroad were said to be due to the enormous increase in abluments from Australia. During the latter part of the session trading narrowed down to small transactions. May close rather weak. $45% lower at $1.91% 19%. July closed $6.00wer at $1.01%. Warmer weather and weakness of wheat created an easy undertone in the corn market. May closed $6.00wer at $4.00%. Onto were casier. Early in the week dealers look for a largely increased number of the birds over that received the first few days of the season, and the prices will probably decline in accordance.

Broilers have been in greater demand during the past week than for any similar length of time since the winter season opened. This was probably due to the fact that hens have been very scarce all week, with little chance for increasing the supply very soon. The broilers offered are from the East, are of exceptionally good quality, and sell at 20 cents a pound wholesale.
